

INFORMATION FOR NEWLY ARRIVED SWISS CITIZENS

The Federal Department of Foreign Affairs and the Swiss Embassies and Consulates introduce themselves	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The index of all representations is available on www.eda.admin.ch (Representations) If you stay abroad for more than 12 months, you are obliged to register with the relevant Swiss representation. However, we recommend you to register for shorter stays as well. Your Embassy or Consulate acts as a Citizen Services Office as you know it from Switzerland. Your registration provides the basis for passport issues, transmission of civil status documents to the Swiss registers of civil status, etc.
Services to the public The Consular offices assist you in many different questions, such as:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Swiss passports and ID cards Civil status Citizenship Social welfare for Swiss citizens living abroad Take part in popular votes and elections in Switzerland On the websites of the Federal Department of Foreign Affairs and the Swiss Embassies and Consulates (www.eda.admin.ch / Representations) you will find useful information and forms on those and other topics. For newly emigrated Swiss citizens we recommend the guidebook "Advice for Swiss abroad": (http://www.eda.admin.ch/eda/en/home/doc/publi/ptrali.html)
Please inform your Embassy/Consulate as soon as possible in the following cases:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> If your postal address, phone/cell number or e-mail address has changed Changes in your family's civil status (marriage, divorce, death in the family) Birth of your children If you acquire a foreign citizenship If you relocate outside of the region or country
Swiss Review Official gazette of the Swiss Abroad  www.revue.ch	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The "Swiss Review" is published four to six times per year. It contains important information, such as changes of laws and deadlines concerning the Swiss citizens living abroad. The "Swiss Review" is sent electronically and free of charge to every adult Swiss citizen living and registered abroad, who provides an e-mail address upon registration. If you wish to receive the print edition instead, please specify it when registering with a Swiss representation, or register/change your preference at any time at www.swissabroad.ch. Households with more than one registered adult may receive the print edition of the Revue in multiple copies. In order to help limiting cost, you can stop multiple deliveries to your household. Please contact your Swiss Embassy or Consulate.
